The Flying Eagles

...The Flying Eagles Jazz Band was formed at the Sacramento Trad Jazz Adult Camp in 2010. While this band was the "new kid on the block," the band plays as if they have been together for years! The style runs the gamut of Traditional Jazz styles, from the Original Dixieland Jazz Band to King Oliver, Fats Waller to a more modern-style Dixieland made famous by Kenny Ball. The band also plays slow blues favorites, up-tempo Dixieland classics, 1930s – 1940s popular swing, and even popular tunes. Regardless of your musical taste, this band guarantees to keep the audience dancing and their toes tapping.

Jim Broadstreet (trumpet) is the leader. John Tanko (reeds) and Bill Badstubner (trombone) fill out the "front line." Jim Maihack (piano), Jeff Green (banjo and guitar), Gerry Turner (bass), and Hugh O'Donnell (drums) set down the driving rhythm.

President's Message

We are looking forward a dandy afternoon with The Flying Eagles Jazz Band on Sunday, Nov 10. With all the power outages, the horrific fire and all the upset, it will be good to lift spirits with this lively, high energy and talented band.

As you know from our last gig, the tavern is open - however, be sure to keep in mind that alcohol is not allowed outside the tavern, so must be consumed in the tavern. We are working to have it available during our gigs in Grant Hall, but that is still up in the air. But, it's great to have the bar open and drinks available to all who want to imbibe. Water will be provided in Grant Hall.

I am hopeful that food will be available in the cafe/tavern, but don't have a definite word yet, so if you want to bring food, you're welcome to do so - or take the chance the cafe will finally be open.

The Fog City Stompers entertained us in October and kept the joint jumping. A talented band with a lot of Bix - and you can't go wrong with that.

Hope you are all well and at home safely and able to join us on November 10 to enjoy our favorite music.

See you then.

Linda
